Projection Protection from SANYO, the UK's Number One Projector brand

SANYO have developed one of the first projectors specifically for the education market - with the emphasis clearly placed on security.

The SANYO SafeGuard system has been designed with the needs of schools, colleges and universities in mind. With a look of and desk features, the SANYO SafeGuard is fully protected from meddling hands of theft and comes fully approved by the Crime and Loss Prevention Board.

Small enough to easily carry around, but brighter than anything else of comparable size, this is the only projector you'll ever need!

Capitalise your learning and help to illuminate minds...

Don't rely on blackboards, whiteboards or even projectors! Overhead Projectors to get your points across - Choose the SANYO SafeGuard and capitalise your learning.

The extremely well priced SANYO SafeGuard delivers high quality pictures even during bright-light projection, making it perfect for use with telepresence extraordinary. At this ent-priced level, the interactive whiteboard or PROJECTION launch can be used on a projection screen, however, it's most desirable to use the SafeGuard system and you'll have a truly interactive presentation medium that chases the attention of your audience.
