

SPECIAL DESIGN OPTIONS

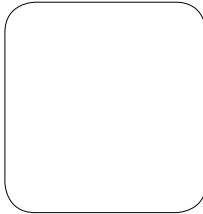

Projecta offers more than is standard in order to anticipate the ever-changing trends in boardrooms and living rooms. In many cases, a projection screen is an inconspicuous part of the room. The Concept Electrol offers you the possibility of making the projection screen a part of the design as a whole. This special range gives you the extra option of making the screen match any interior even more closely.

The screen can be finished to your own taste using different types of special strips which can be attached along the whole length of the case. This allows you to add that extra detail for the perfect integration of your screen with your boardroom or living room. A selection of various types of end caps is also available for adding that finishing touch.
